

The Relationship between Work Motivation and Job Satisfaction in Hotel's Employees

Baharak Shirzad*
Parinaz Banisi
Ehsan Sodagar

Abstract

The purpose of this study was to investigate the relationship between work motivation and job satisfaction in hotel's employees. The statistical population of the research includes all employees of one five-star hotel in Tehran. From This population 175 employees were selected by simple random sampling method. The instrument used for research variables were Leins Job Satisfaction, and Arresters and De Brown Stein Job Motivation Questionnaires. Pearson correlation coefficient was used for data analysis. The result showed there is a positive and significant relationship between work motivation and job satisfaction.

Keywords: work motivation, job satisfaction

* Assistant Professor, Department of Industrial and Organizational Psychology, Islamic Azad University Electronic Campus, Tehran, Iran

 Associate Professor, Department of Industrial and Organizational Psychology, Islamic Azad University Electronic Campus, Tehran, Iran

 M.A. Student of Industrial and Organizational Psychology, Islamic Azad University Electronic Campus, Tehran, Iran (Corresponding Author) sodagar416@gmail.com